

Indiana Bicentennial Flag

FAQS

Where shall we fly this flag? It is our hope that the Bicentennial Flag will be flown at your courthouse or city hall. Flags were provided to county auditors at their conference in October.

When should the flag be flown? The flag is to be raised, if possible, at 12:00 noon (EST) on Statehood Day, December 11, 2015. It should be flown through the Bicentennial, December 11, 2016.

How should it be displayed? The Bicentennial Flag should be flown following the rules of flag etiquette. Those rules govern flag raising and display depending on the number of halyards. One source is www.military.com. The Bicentennial Flag is not meant to replace the US or state flag in a display.

What is the enclosed Proclamation for? The Proclamation is a draft for your use at the time of the raising of the flag to honor the beginning of the Bicentennial year. It carries suggested language only; feel free to prepare your own proclamation making December 11 a special day in your community.

Can I order more flags? Yes. The Indiana Historical Bureau has flags for sale, both the large size and small display flags. You can order them directly at this link: <http://www.in.gov/history/2388.htm>.

Who made these flags available? The Association of Indiana Counties is the Presenting Sponsor of the Indiana flag project. The AIC is a strident supporter of the Bicentennial as a special time in Indiana, and wanted to make a difference for every county in the state.

I have more questions. Where can I have them answered? Contact Perry Hammock, Executive Director of the Indiana Bicentennial Commission at 317.306.8899, [p Hammock@indiana2016.in.gov](mailto:p Hammock@indiana2016.in.gov) or David Bottorff, AIC Executive Director 317.684.3710, dbottorff@indianacounties.org.
